

Lisa Richards

This Australian songwriter has a life story that could easily grace the silver screen, from acapella busking in Kings Cross, Sydney, to hanging out with Debbie Harry at SXSW, playing CBGB's in NYC as well as living in both New York City and Austin, Texas for many years, before returning home to Australia. With a delightfully unusual voice, part world-weary howl and part youthful exuberance, and a catalog of powerful songs, she will have you swaying and hollering.
